I. STATUS REPORT OF SEARCH WARRANTS

On August 15, 2018, as part of an ongoing criminal investigation, agents from the Internal Revenue Service-Criminal Investigation ("IRS-CI") executed two search warrants for the records and devices of an attorney. Those warrants were issued by this Court (U.S. Magistrate Judge Nancy K. Johnson), for the premises of the attorney's home office and a storage unit. Robert Brockman ("Brockman") was one of the attorney's clients, and some of the seized documents related to him. During the execution of the search warrants, IRS-CI obtained approximately 54 boxes of documents and information from multiple electronic devices.

On January 24, 2019, following a hearing on the matter, the Court ordered additional filter protocols that included, in part, providing each potential privilege holder with the documents relating to that privilege holder, and then allowing that privilege holder sixty days to review the material and raise any privilege claims with the filter team. In the event of a disagreement between the filter team and the privilege holder, the filter team would be permitted to file a motion with the Court seeking a ruling on privilege. On May 10, 2019, the Court granted the Parties' Joint Motion to proceed under the January 24, 2019 protocol.

In approximately July 2019, IRS-CI Special Agents completed the Attachment B review of the 54 boxes and electronic evidence and redacted information potentially privileged as to clients not identified in the search warrant affidavit. Following completion of the Attachment B review, in approximately December 2019, the filter team began reviewing the responsive documents with the goal of segregating and providing the documents that respectively related to each privilege holder. However, the filter team also represents the United States in another under seal matter in a different judicial district. To avoid violating a Court order issued in that matter the filter team ceased reviewing and segregating the responsive materials. The filter team does not currently have authorization from the Court in the other judicial district to disclose the proceeding.
